life is a Watch and the things which you see in life is just like a numbers and we are the hands who crosses all those numbers.... SMall hand represents our childhood.... minute hand represents our adultism and the large hand is our future...